HealthSource RI: HealthSource RI is a unique resource that connects Rhode Islanders to a range of health insurance options. It provides tools, resources, and information you need to stay informed and healthy. Whether you need insurance for yourself, your family, or your employees, you'll find everything you need to weigh your options and choose the right plan. Our website lets you compare your coverage options side-by-side—in simple language. And our experts are available during extended hours to help you with any questions, concerns, or issues.

Whichever plan you choose, you'll get essential health benefits, including doctor visits, hospitalizations, maternity care, ER visits, and prescriptions. You may also qualify for a tax credit to help pay for insurance. HealthSource RI can also provide information about and assistance with applications for public programs such as Rhode Island Medicaid.

Premium: Your monthly premium is the amount that you pay each month for your health insurance. You must pay your monthly premium on time each month in order to keep your health insurance active. On HealthSource RI, you can have your premium taken right out of your bank account every month. You can also pay with a check or a money order.

Deductible: Your deductible is the amount you owe for certain healthcare services before your health insurance begins to pay. For example, if your deductible is $1,000, your plan won't pay anything until you've met your $1,000 deductible for covered health care services subject to the deductible. The deductible may not apply to all services.

Advance Premium Tax Credit (APTC): HealthSource RI offers tax credits to help Rhode Islanders pay for their monthly health insurance costs. These tax credits are based on how much you earn — if you're single, you can make up to $46,680, while a family of four people can make up to $95,400. An Advance Premium Tax Credit is paid directly to your insurance provider.

Cost-Sharing Reductions: Cost Sharing Reductions lower the amount of money you spend on your medical care. You will pay less for co-pays, deductibles, and co-insurance when you see the doctor, go to the hospital, or get a prescription. These Cost Sharing Reduction discounts are only available on Silver plans.

Minimum Essential Coverage: This is the type of coverage an individual needs to have to meet the individual responsibility requirement under the Affordable Care Act. This includes individual market policies, job-based coverage, Medicare, Medicaid, Children's Health Insurance Plan (CHIP), TRICARE and other coverage that covers Essential Health Benefits.

Minimum Value Standard: A health plan meets the "minimum value standard" if the plan's share of the total benefit costs covered is no less than 60 percent of such costs. If you do not have access to any health coverage that meets the minimum value standard, you may be eligible for tax credits to help cover the cost of insurance.

Individual Responsibility Requirement: Starting in 2014, the individual shared responsibility requirement calls for each individual to have minimum essential health coverage (known as minimum essential coverage) for each month, qualify for an exemption, or make a payment when filing his or her federal income tax return.

Rhode Island Medicaid Program: Public health coverage programs for eligible Rhode Island residents, funded through Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program. The Rhode Island Medicaid program delivers health care through its Rite Care managed care plans for families with children, Rhody Health Partners and Connect Care health care options for adults and elders, and an array of institutional and community-based programs that deliver long-term services and supports.

SSNs are used to check identity, citizenship, immigration status and income, as well as to prevent fraud and verify healthcare claims. We also use SSN information with other federal and state agencies, including the Internal Revenue Service, to manage our programs and follow the law.

If requested by the agency, provide any information or proof needed to decide if you are eligible.

Report changes in income, family size or other application information as soon as possible.

Things you should know for all health coverage programs:

There are certain state and federal laws that govern the operation of HealthSource RI and EOHHS, your rights and responsibilities as a user of HealthSource RI and the coverage obtained through HealthSource RI or EOHHS. By filling out this application, you agree to comply with these laws and coverage obtained hereby.

The National Voter Registration Act of 1973 requires all states to provide voter registration assistance through their public assistance offices. Applying to register or declining to register to vote will not affect the services or benefits that you will be provided by this agency. You can register to vote at <http://www.elections.ri.gov/voting/registration.php>.

You may ask for an appeal. If you disagree with a decision that was made by HealthSource RI regarding your eligibility, you have a right to appeal that decision. Pursuant to EOHHS Rule #0110, "Complaints and Hearings," you may file an appeal of an eligibility determination and the matter will be heard by a hearing officer. You must file an appeal within the 30 day period that begins five days after the date your notice was sent via email (transmittal date) or by U.S. Mail (postmark date) by HealthSource RI. Once you have received the notice, you can request an appeal. The notice contains information about how to request an appeal. Please call HealthSource RI at (855)712-9158 with any questions.

If the appeal is for a decision on Rhode Island Medicare coverage, which is unresolved by a case review, you will be scheduled for an Administrative Hearing.

You may apply for support enforcement services through the Office of Child Support Services. To get an application for these services, go to <http://www.cse.ri.gov/> or visit your local Office of Child Support Services office at 77 Dorrance St, Providence RI 02903.

Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) restrictions prevent us from discussing the health information of you or any member of your household with anyone, including an authorized representative, unless that individual has power of attorney or you have signed a consent form authorizing the disclosure of this information. This includes disclosure of mental health information, HIV, AIDS, STD test results, or treatment and chemical dependency services.

The information that you give HealthSource RI or EOHHS is subject to verification by federal and state sources. In order to review your Application and to determine whether you qualify for help paying for your health care coverage, HealthSource RI and EOHHS must obtain confidential financial and other information from state and federal agencies. This process may also include follow-up contacts from agency staff.

Your wage and employment data will also be verified by HealthSource RI and EOHHS with the Rhode Island Department of Labor and Training. Granting this consent will help to simplify the application and determination process.

Your personal information will be protected as described in the HealthSource RI Privacy Policy which may be made available to you upon request. You may contact HealthSource RI to request a copy.

HealthSource RI is not responsible for administering your commercial health insurance plan. Your health insurance carrier can provide you more information about your benefits.

If you have questions about the terms of your health insurance plan, including what benefits you are eligible for, out of pocket expenses under your plan, and making a benefit claim or appealing a denial of benefits, you should contact your health insurance carrier. If you are eligible for COBRA following the termination of any health insurance coverage, administering COBRA and providing you the required COBRA notices and election periods is your former employer's or issuer's responsibility.

Do not cancel any current insurance coverage or decline any COBRA benefits until you receive an approval letter and insurance policy, also known as insurance contract or certificate, from the insurance carrier you select. Make sure you understand and agree with the terms of the policy, pay special attention to the effective date, waiting periods, premium amount, benefits, limitations, exclusions, and riders.

Your rights for Rhode Island Medicaid only. EOHHS and HealthSource RI must:

Give you 10 days to provide the information we need. The ten days begins five days after the date the request for additional information was sent via email (transmittal date) or U.S. mail (postmark date). If you don't give us the information or ask for more time we may deny, terminate, suspend, or change your health care coverage.

Notify you, in most cases, at least 10 days before we stop your healthcare coverage.

Give you a written decision, in most cases, within 30 days. Healthcare coverage requiring a determination of disability or level of care may take up to 90 days.

Continue Rhode Island Medicaid coverage while we decide if you are eligible for another program.

Your responsibilities for Rhode Island Medicaid only. You must:

Report any changes to what you have reported on the application within 10 days of the change.

Cooperate with the Office of Child Support Services if you receive Rhode Island Medicaid coverage. You must help establish, modify, or enforce child support for the child(ren) in your care, and establish paternity (if necessary). If you can show that you have a good reason to believe that cooperating with the Office of Child Support Services puts you, your children, or the children in your care at risk of harm from the noncustodial parent, you may claim good cause not to cooperate.

Cooperate with Quality Assurance staff when asked.

Apply for and make a reasonable effort to get potential income from other sources when you ask for or receive Rhode Island Medicaid coverage.

Things you should know for Rhode Island Medicaid only:

By asking for and receiving Rhode Island Medicaid, you give the state of Rhode Island all rights to any medical support and to any third party payments for health care, including third party casualty insurance. When you receive Rhode Island Medicaid, you assign your medical support rights to the Office of Child Support Services.

If you stop getting Rhode Island Medicaid, you must tell Office of Child Support Services about any changes that affect medical support, such as if your child has moved or your address has changed.

By law (RI Gen Laws 40-8-15), if you are age 55 or older AND receive Rhode Island Medicaid services, Medicaid may recover from your estate (assets you own at the time of death) to repay Medicaid for the costs of health care assistance. This is called ESTATE RECOVERY. Tribal lands and certain properties belonging to American Indians and Alaskan Natives may be exempt from recovery. If you have dependent heirs, estate recovery may not apply or may be delayed for some hardship reasons.

Estate Recovery does not occur until after your death. Medicaid may recover the costs for state-only funded long-term care services received at any age.

You may be restricted to one health care provider, pharmacy, and/or hospital if you seek out unnecessary health care services from providers.

Continuation or Reinstatement of Health Coverage also known as “aid pending” may be available if you appeal a determination affecting your eligibility or the scope of your health coverage and services. You must request aid pending during the 10 day advance notice period that begins on the fifth day after the notice of eligibility or change in health coverage is sent by EO-HHS via email or the U.S. Mail.

Things you should know for qualified health plans only:

If you enroll in a qualified health plan through HealthSource RI and you do not provide enough information for HealthSource RI to verify your eligibility to purchase a plan or receive a reduced-cost plan, or if any information you provide is not verifiable, you will have 90 days to provide further information to satisfy HealthSource RI’s eligibility requirements. During this time, you should work with HealthSource RI staff to try to provide any missing information or resolve any inconsistencies so that you may obtain coverage as soon as possible, or, if you are provided conditional eligibility, you may avoid a disruption in coverage.

If you enroll in a qualified health plan through HealthSource RI and you have a change in income, you must notify HealthSource RI within thirty (30) days of that change. A change in income could change the tax credits or cost-sharing reductions for which you are eligible to help you pay for insurance. We base your tax credit on the income you put on this application. If your income goes up, you will qualify for less of a tax credit on your health coverage. If you don’t tell us about your income changing, we will continue to offer the same discount every month but may have to pay that money back at tax time.

For example, when Susan buys health insurance, she earns about $30,000 a year. She qualifies for a tax credit of $2,000. She decides to use it to reduce the monthly cost of her health insurance. She gets $166 off her bill every month. Six months later, she gets a new job and earns too much money to get a tax credit. If she doesn’t tell anyone, she will continue to get $166 off her health insurance. At tax time, she will owe $166 for every month she didn’t qualify for the credit.

Premium rates are subject to change based on the health insurance carrier’s underwriting practices and your selection of available optional benefits, if any. Final rates are always determined by the health insurance carrier.

Premium rates are for your requested effective date ONLY. If the actual effective date of your policy is different from your requested effective date, the actual cost of your policy may differ from the rates listed on healthsourceri.com, due to rate increases or policy changes from the insurance company and/or one or more family members having a birthday. (Rates are highly dependent on age.) The carrier you selected may not guarantee their rates for any period of time until a contract is signed.

CONSENT FOR USE OF INCOME DATA

In order to determine your eligibility for help paying for your health coverage, we will use income data, including information from tax returns. You will receive a notice with your eligibility determination and may make changes to update the income information used at any time by contacting HealthSource RI.

I Agree to give my Consent for Use of Income Data

I do not give my Consent and I understand that this will impact my eligibility for helping to pay for health coverage.

5 years (this is the maximum automatic renewal period) 4 years 3 years 2 years 1 year

I understand that if advance payments of the premium tax credit will be paid on my behalf to reduce the cost of health coverage for myself and/or my dependents:

- I must file a federal income tax return the year after my coverage year for the tax year in which I received coverage.
- If I'm married at the end of the coverage year, I must file a joint income tax return with my spouse.

I also expect that:

- No one else will be able to claim me as a dependent on their coverage year federal income tax return.
- I'll claim a personal exemption deduction on my coverage year federal income tax return for any individual listed on this application as a dependent who is enrolled in coverage through this Marketplace and whose premium for coverage is paid in whole or in part by advance payments.
- If any of the above changes, I understand that it may impact my ability to get an advance premium tax credit.

I also understand that when I file my coverage year federal income tax return, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) will compare the income on my tax return with the income on my application. I understand that if the income on my tax return is lower than the amount of income on my application, I may be eligible to get an additional tax credit amount. On the other hand, if the income on my tax return is higher than the amount of income on my application, I may owe additional federal income tax.
